Old Hammondtown Teacher Honored For Excellence In Inclusive Education

By Dionne F. Richmond
Inside Ms. Kriselyn
Brammer's fifth grade classroom, each student is a link in a circle of friends. Each is viewed as unique but equal, is taught to respect each other's feeling and space and encouraged to take risks, like raising hands to participate in class.

That is why parent Andree Howard requested Ms. Brammer for her daughter's fifth grade teacher based on the recommendations of parents. In a nomination letter for the 1996 Excellence in Inclusive Education Award, Ms. Howard said she was told that her classroom environment is based on equity and respect, and that all children are welcomed, valued and supported.

She heard that Ms. Brammer would be excited by the challenge of having a deaf student in her class and would learn what she needed to work with her daughter and to help her belong. She was still a little nervous, but decided to go ahead with it. The result has been extraordinary.

"Kris is an incredible teacher. What started as an experiment in inclusion is working better than I ever dreamed it could. Kris didn't need to change the way she teaches: all the elements of an effective, caring, heterogenous classroom were already there. What Kris does for my daughter, she does for all the children in her class. She empowers them to become independent, lifelong learners, with a sense of social responsibility," wrote Ms. Howard in her letter to nominate Ms. Brammer.

Ms. Brammer said she was honored to be nominated more than anything. A group of parents got together, and Ms. Howard wrote a letter which moved her to tears. It recognized teaching in a positive way and said she did make a difference. "It was a thrill to be nominated. Teachers and parents wrote a support letter, they spent time in the classroom, it was a wonderful experience," she said.

She said she concentrates on treating everyone equal and has the same expectations for every child. "I try to teach them to be aware of each other and each other's feelings and become a circle of friends—to really become it, not just say it," she said. She helps them to feel comfortable enough to raise their hands, and instills confidence. They also talk about things in the world and she tries "to get them to care about each other, to become more aware of other points of view."

Ms. Brammer said she too has learned from her student, Emily Blachly, Ms. Howard's daughter. "I've learned more about her courage, her can do attitude," she said. The class also has grown and learned together; some have learned sign language to communicate with Emily. They have learned many signs of the day and started out learning how to say "Hi" and "Bye," "book," "stand," to name a few. By watching her interpreter, Ms. McLaughlin, many in the class have learned sign language on their own. "What an experience, they connect my words and see her (interpreter) and they gain something."

"It's wonderful, the kids are so kind and flexible and able to take and learn to enrich their lives through experience," she said.

Ms. Brammer is also proud of her students work is proudly displayed in the classroom and spills out into the hall. Photographs of the children working, playing, and presenting abound. Pictures, quotes and books which celebrate the differences and uniqueness of humankind are everywhere. Examples of other languages and cultures are displayed. Everyone has some non-verbal communication skills, and some children can communicate effectively in sign language. The classroom arrangement changes often to reflect the changing needs of the class, but it always encourages communication and mutual respect. The students are aware of and sensitive to each other's needs and are encouraged to come up with creative solutions to be sure everyone's needs are met. One can't help but feel welcome.

"In the fall, each student wrote a positive paragraph about each other student. Kris bound the pages together and presented each child with a book about themselves written by their classmates. Next they explored what it means to be a friend. Kris confronts potentially difficult or touchy issues head on, and encourages the children to approach them with compassion; she doesn't ignore them and hope they will go away. In December, each child researched and shared with the class some of their

Ms. Brammer was awarded the 1996 Excellence in Education Award, which brings a $1,000 grant to each teacher to be used to further their education and training and a $500 grant to each award winner's School Library. The Award is presented by the Nemasket Group's Family Connections Project of Fairhaven and the New Bedford area office of the Department of Mental Retardation.

- ARTICLE 15: Zoning Map Amendments;
- ARTICLE 19: Definition of Frontage;
- ARTICLE 20: Removal of Frontage

Definition.

Though three other related zoning articles fared better than their counterparts, they too were defeated by a majority of Town Meeting voters. These included ARTICLE 16: Definition of Lot, which failed 140 to 100; ARTICLE 17: Definition of Lot, which failed 143 to 106; and ARTICLE 18: Definition of Frontage, which failed 140 to 100.

Voters, however, did unanimously approve a by-law change which altered the effective date for Regulation of Flood Areas from July 15, 1992 to September 30, 1995 under ARTICLE 21; and unanimously voted to change the boundary line of the R 30 Zoning District north of Route 6 and south of Route 195 to a distance of 400 feet from the centerline of North Street under ARTICLE 22.

Town Meeting also unanimously approved:

- $500 transfer from Free Cash to defray the operating expenses of the Bicycle Path Study Committee (ARTICLE 23);
- $16,000 transfer from the Stabilization Fund to purchase Special Hazards equipment and an enclosed trailer for storage and hauling of Special Hazards equipment for the Fire Department (ARTICLE 24);

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting June 4, 1996

By Kenneth J. Souza

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, June 4 at 7:00 pm by Chairman John N. DeCosta. Also present were Selectman Paul E. Lambalot and Secretary Melody Pacheco. Selectman Michele Bernier was not present for the meeting.

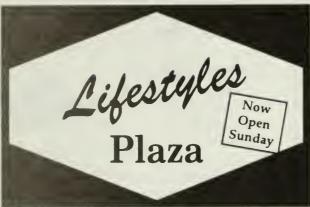

At 7:00 pm the board met with Recreation Director John Shockro and resident Adrian Lonsdale to discuss needed repairs at the town tennis courts. According to Mr. Lonsdale, one net needs to be replaced, four cranks are missing from the nets, and two winches are also gone.

Mr. Shockro noted that he had purchased a new net for one of the courts — but there was a mistake in the order and it had to be sent back. The replacement net has since arrived and will be installed shortly. "I've only got $200 to spend on equipment," Mr. Shockro said, "and I've already spent $100 on (one) net."

At last week's Town Meeting, however, Town Accountant Joseph Bolton advised that there was some money left over from the recent resurfacing project that could be used for the tennis courts. Selectman Lambalot said he would like to get a clarification on how much money is available and then maybe use the remaining funds to upgrade the equipment at the tennis courts.

Chairman DeCosta agreed, and said he would check out the tennis courts this week with Highway Surveyor Wesley Bowman to see what maintenance work could be done to keep the courts in tip-top shape. Mr. Shockro said he would be more than willing to order more equipment for the tennis courts should additional funding become available.

The board unanimously voted to approve the minutes of the May 21 meeting, and signed the weekly treasury warrant and outgoing correspondence. They also unanimously approved an auctioneer's license for Amos Weiss of Newton, MA for a Rug Auction which will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Route 6 on Sunday, June 16 at 1:00 pm. The auction is being sponsored by Empire Oriental Rug, Inc.

The board then unanimously voted to appoint William Fuchs of North Street to the Conservation Commission (ConCom) to serve out a term through April 30, 1997. Mr. Fuchs was selected from among three candidates and was unanimously recommended by the ConCom.

Chairman DeCosta noted that students from Old Hammondtown School will be visiting Town Hall on Friday, June 7 at 9:00 am; ORR High School will be holding Commencement Exercises on Saturday, June 8 at 1:00 pm; and Old Colony Regional Voke will also be holding their graduation on Sunday, June 9 at 1:00 pm.

The board reminded residents that Tuesday, June 11 is Election Day in Mattapoisett, and voters will be asked to approve several override items which were passed on Town Meeting floor last week. Polls will be open from 10:00 am until 8:00 pm.

REFINANCE BREAK - EVEN POINT

Lower payments are what most people seek when they refinance their mortgages. It also can be a nice way to tap your home equity for other financial needs. However, you should figure your costs carefully before deciding.

To tell if you might benefit, start with the two-by-two rule: Your present loan rate should be two or more percentage points higher than today's rates; you bought the house at least two years ago; and you plan to stay put for at least another two years.

Any refinancing will have new closing costs:

points (each equal to one percent of the loan), appraisal fees, title search and insurance. These can total as much as 5% or more of the new loan. How long will it take to work off these new closing costs before you begin to realize savings on your monthly payments? Divide your closing costs by the difference between your old and new payments to get the answer in months. It will probably be around two years.

Call Bruce today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs. We're here to help!! 758-6738.

Magee feels this will be safer for parents who drop off their children in the morning. But some residents at the meeting noted that the Congregational Church uses that side of the street to line up funeral processions. Selectman Lambalot suggested they contact Rev. Patch at the Congregational Church before taking action on this matter.

• Letter from Rochester's Herring Inspector David Watling thanking the board for the new sign which has been installed at the Herring Weir on Route 6 and now includes the names of all three towns — Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester.

• Notice that the next Tri-Town Selectmen's meeting will be held on Thursday, June 13 at 7:00 pm in the Mattapoisett Town Hall.

• Suggestion from Bob Coquillette that arrangements be made to provide a waiting room for persons waiting to meet with various town boards and committees in Town Hall. According to Mr. Coquillette, people who are forced to wait in the hallway tend to talk among themselves, creating a disturbance for those involved in various meetings.

• Notification from Fire Chief Ronald Scott that the town's new replacement apparatus for Engine 4 arrived on May 31 and is in service. Chairman DeCosta noted that the truck has been used in four fires already. Chief Scott also listed the specifications for the old Engine 4 — a 1972 Ford Farrar pumper, with a 1,000-gallon-per-minute three-state pump, a 1,000-gallon tank, and five speeds with a gas motor. The old vehicle will be put out to bid.

Under the Executive Secretary's report, Ms. Pacheco advised that the town's Natural Resources Officer informed the board that some 20,000 adult scallops were recently transplanted in Mattapoisett Harbor. The board was also asked to begin soliciting bids for repairs at the Town Hall, for which Chairman DeCosta said he would prepare the specs.

Ms. Pacheco also noted that to date they had received only one application to fill a vacancy on the Finance Committee (FinCom). The deadline was originally slated for Friday, June 7, but they would like to extend it through July 1. Interested residents should submit their name to the Board of Selectmen c/o Town Hall, 16 Main Street, Mattapoisett, MA 02739, or call 758-4100.

At 7:30 pm the board met with representatives of Continental Cablevision and Mattapoisett Cable Advisory Committee Chairman Daniel White to discuss plans to install a fiber optic I-NET system in municipal buildings. According to Mr. White, Continental Cablevision has suggested that the town might want to opt for a Hybrid Fiber Coaxial (HFC) system instead of a pure fiber optic hookup.

"It would cost about $50,000 per location to connect a (pure fiber optic system) to all town buildings," Mr. White said. "By going with the HFC system, it would only cost about $5,000 to $10,000 per location."

Steve Cushing of Continental Cablevision explained that the HFC system uses a central location node which receives the fiber optic line and translates it into a Radio Frequency (RF) signal — much like the coaxial cable line currently used in most homes. This would avoid the town's having to purchase expensive hardware to decode the fiber optic information, while still retaining the benefits of a fiber optic I-NET system. The system would link all town buildings including Town Hall, the Department of Public Works, the Water Department, the Police Station, the Fire Station, the schools, and the public library.

"We talked about having our own Mattapoisett (public access) channel and community bulletin board," Mr. White said. "We'd still be able to have that ... and be able to broadcast any combination of audio and video. But (Continental Cablevision) can't proceed with the system

Selectman Lambalot asked the representatives of Continental Cablevision to draw up an amendment to their existing contract which could be reviewed by Town Counsel before they took any action. They agreed to do so and the board said they would be ready to vote on this matter next week.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 7:50 pm.

transferred from available free cash in the treasury for the reduction of taxes and to transfer from available funds in the treasury (free cash) the sum of $24,000 in the Police Department account number 210 for fiscal year 1995.

Selectman Schaefer explained to the voters that two serious illnesses, (one of the ongoing) and the spread of the flu in the Police Department has taken up much of the overtime budget. Also, E-9-1-1 training was not something budgeted last year, since it wasn't in place until December. Voters unanimously approved this article.

• ARTICLE S4—To see if the town will vote to amend the Zoning By-Laws, Section 10, Cluster Residential Housing as follows: by adding the letter "A" after the word "Residence" in the first paragraph.

By adding the following note to the minimum, sideyard setbacks, as set forth in Section 10.8.2.

And to amend the Zoning By-Laws, Section 5.1, Dimensional Requirements Table, by adding note, "These dimensional requirements may be waived in accordance with the provisions of Section 10, Cluster Residential Housing, upon the issuance of a Special Permit." to Residence A. This article passed with 81 in favor and 13 opposed.

the zoning map in the area described from Residence Zone A to Residence Zone B. 94 voted in favor of this article and 5 were in opposition.

 ARTICLE S6—To see if the town will vote to amend the motion carried under Article 8 of the Annual Town Meeting held on April 24, 1995 by amending the description of the parcel of land on Cottage Street included with the sale of Taber Hall, subject to an easement for the purpose of maintaining the brook and storm drain bounded as described in the town warrant. Ms. Schaefer explained Taber Hall has been put out to bid three times and hasn't been sold. After the last Town Meeting, she said they were told to look at different ways to make it more saleable. After speaking with many Town Residents Ms. Schaefer said the consensus was to treat it as a whole lot to make it more saleable instead of two separate lots. "We've already had calls, I urge you to support this," she said.

Some residents in the audience said they felt the Holmes Brook restoration project was being neglected because of the sale of Taber Hall as a whole lot. Ms. Schaefer said they were directed to take a look at the property and make it more saleable, which was one reason for an easement.

After hearing from Mr. Dennis Luttrell of the Conservation Commission and BBAC, who said the residents should hold voting on Taber Hall on hold, Ms. Schaefer said she was disappointed this subject did not come up earlier. "I'm disappointed this is being brought up tonight," she said.

Mr. Luttrell said he thought the Conservation Commission would have been approached, but said that never happened.

Ms. Schaefer explained one real block when trying to sell Taber Hall previously was a 35 foot strip easement, which would have been reduced to 15 foot easement if voters so chose.

"People felt we should take a look at the entire parcel to make it more saleable," she said.

One resident made a motion to table the article until they had a better understanding of how the Holmes Brook project would be affected by the sale. There were 77 residents who voted to table this article and 15 who opposed tabling the article.

Rochester Selectmen's Meeting

June 3, 1996

By Amelia Thrall

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, June 3 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Lorraine Roy Hawkes. Also present were Selectman David L. Hughes, Selectman Richard D. Cutler, and Interim Secretary Veronica Lafreniere.

The meeting began with the approval of last week's minutes. Correspondence for the week included a letter from Chief of Police Walter Denham, about the vehicles which will be requested at the town meeting. The board discussed this later and decided that since the vehicle being replaced will be given to the fire department, it would be better to recommend the four-wheel drive rather than the cruiser, since the old four-wheel drive will be appreciated much more by the firemen.

Jeffrey Eldridge, highway surveyor, wrote that Articles 33 and 34 could be withdrawn if necessary from the warrant.

Kelly Hartley wrote that Janice Look, assistant dog officer and member of the finance committee, had requested a refund for ambulance fees she had paid since she works for the town.

Chairman Hawkes said that she had checked the files and Ms. Look was not the assistant dog officer until a month after her ride in 1994.

The chairman of the board of appeals, Charles Wolf, sent a list of the board's reasons for their request to contact legal counsel.

"A notice of community funding available" was sent by Marc Pacheco, state senator. The grants "don't really apply to the town," Chairman Hawkes said.

Gregory Tougas, president of New Bedford Pest Control, notified the board that treatment for the termite problem will cost a total of $1,750. The

At 7:05 pm, the board met with Dog Officer Thomas Medeiros about a dog on Dexter Lane. When it gets loose, it attacks children. Chairman Hawkes requested "written reports" of the incidents. A hearing was scheduled for two weeks later.

Selectmen met with Patricia and Calvin Maxim about their dog which had been hit by a town vehicle. Because of the multiple fractures on the pelvis and hind leg, the dog, which had been bought for breeding purposes, was put to sleep.

"I don't feel the town has any obligations," said Selectman Hughes. He cited a similar case that happened some years ago with a calf in the road; there had been no compensation because it was not on a rope or leash. The Maxims explained that they believed that their dog wasn't on the road. The board decided to check with the town's insurance company.

At 7:30 pm Chief Denham talked to the board about applying for a COPS grant to hire an additional police officer. "The town comes up with a 25 percent match," he explained. Hiring another officer will cut down on overtime. Patricia Ryan, chairman of the finance committee, questioned if town would be able to afford this after the grant has run out. The board told Chief Denham to apply for the grant; once they receive it, they can decide whether or not to hire a new officer.

discuss their recommendations for the town meeting. Some of the articles "could wait a year," Ms. Ryan said, mentioning a new computer system and a new truck. Once the request of $15,000 for the Master Plan had been brought down to $10,000, the finance committee agreed to recommend it. Selectman Cutler pointed out that there are reimbursement possibilities.

After signing a flammable fluid permit and an auctioneer's license the board had no other business, so the meeting was adjourned at 9:20 pm.

FERRETS

I am thinking about getting a pet ferret. Will a ferret get along with my child and dog? Ferrets and dogs usually get along fine. Ferrets should not be left alone with small children as these animals seem to be attracted to fats in child's skin and may bite.

Do ferrets require any special care? A home must be "ferret proofed" to avoid escape and ingestion of rubber and plastic items. Ferrets should eat ferret food or a good quality dry kitten food. They require annual vaccines for distemper and rabies.

Letters to the Editor

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to clarify my position concerning the proposed development of the Nunes' estate property in Mattapoisett. I am in support of this project, and believe that it can be a "win/win" situation, provided that the developers follow wetlands protection acts, as well as the laws, rules and regulations of the town of Mattapoisett, and give due consideration to the diverse concerns of abutters, neighbors and other interested citizens.

Sincerely, Diane H. Perry

Mattapoisett and Rochester will hold its Annual Meeting on June 16th. One of the highlights will be the presentation of the 1996 Joe Tomlinson Fellowship Award. This award is presented annually to the person selected without regard to age, sex, or religious affiliation who has given unselfishly of themselves for the good of others and for which there has been no personal, economic or political gain for themselves.

The recipient of this years Joe Tomlinson Award selected by secret ballot from nominations made by the citizens in the Tri-Town area is Christina Bascom of Marion. She was selected because of her outstanding service and her many good deeds to those in need in the community.

She worked with the Sippican Lands Trust in its formative idealistic stage, is a past president as well as currently a member of the Board in the wellendowed present organization that encourages membership and participation by all. She has also been instrumental in working toward the purchase of a portion of the Pearson Estate in Marion. At holiday time Christina has worked arduously for the less fortunate by raising money and helping to fill and distribute food baskets for the needy. In addition she is a past president of the Zeiterion Theatre and in Marion, organized the rejuvenation of Bicentennial Park, is a Growth Management Committee member and is on the Open Space Committee.

A June Father's Day breakfast meeting honoring Christina Bascom, at which the award will

Other civic activities include being a member of the Marion Tree Committee, coordinator of the Marion Foundation (there is no director as Christina does not want a hierarchical form of governance) and full time volunteer. She, along with Margot Arms, organized and implemented the tradition of lighted trees outside of businesses in the Village at Christmas Time. Prior to her many civic activities, she co-owned two businesses in town, Smithfield and Benedict, an interior decorating business, and the Artichoke, a shop of unique gifts. She is an accomplished tennis and paddle tennis player and a frequent traveler. She has an extensive knowledge of plants and is committed to improving the environment.

It is estimated that during the last 24 years, approximately 2,235 "survivors" have completed the week-long outdoor experience. #### Zeiterion Theatre

Once in a blue moon a group breaks onto the musical stage that truly defines the dawn of a new era. The Beatles and Nirvana come to mind. Madredeus is such a group. And the Zeiterion has Madredeus tickets on sale...now. Portugal's wildly popular six member ensemble is coming to the Zeiterion Theatre on Sunday, June 16 at 7:00 pm. This is the group's first U.S. tour. The Zeiterion Box Office suggests patrons purchase tickets early to avoid sell-out disappointment. The group gets its name from the Lisbon neighborhood where it used to rehearse, Madre deDeus; its first album came out in 1987 to great acclaim.

Three albums have since followed. Madredeus's desire is to create a modern Portuguese sound by mixing in a little classical chamber music, fado, and other musical influences. Now you have what is Madredeus: a sound enriched by Portuguese culture whose broad appeal caters to both European and American audiences. The soothing sounds of acoustic guitars, keyboards, cello and accordian accompany lead singer Teresa Salguiro's soulful vocals.

Tickets are on sale for $25 at the Zeiterion Theatre Box Office. They can also be purchased at all ticketmaster outlets, or by calling Ticketmaster in MA at (508) 931-2000. Students are eligible for a $3 discount. For more details, call 994-2900.

Movie Review Shooting for Fame with Andy Warhol

By Rob Gonsalves

• I Shot Andy Warhol. Starring Lili Taylor and Stephen Dorff. Directed by Mary Harron. Running time: 100 minutes. MPAA rating: R. At the Avon Repertory Cinema in Providence through June 13.

Should we begin with the obvious quote from the man himself — that in the future, everyone will be world-famous for fifteen minutes? Of course, one of the fastest ways to fame is to shoot someone famous. On June 3, 1968, at the height of Andy Warhol's fame (some would say infamy), a previously obscure woman named Valerie Solanas shot him at close range three times, nearly killing him. For many cultural observers, this and Altamont drew the curtain on the Dionysian bash of the sixties.

I Shot Andy Warhol, the erratically paced but generally provocative film by Mary Harron, isn't only about the angry loner Valerie Solanas (Lili Taylor) — though it does work well as a neutral biography. Harron's great theme — what makes the movie linger in the mind — is the chasm between reality and artifice, between Solanas' relentless man-hating and Warhol's kitschy Pop philosophy, between raw emotion and empty posing.

Solanas was undeniably intelligent, and just as undeniably unhinged. Harron and co-writer Daniel Minahan touch on Solanas' early life (molestation, prostitution) and then place her in the druggy New York scene of 1966. A hustler and writer of feminist pamphlets (the SCUM Manifesto), Solanas meets drag queen Candy Darling (a striking performance by Stephen Dorff), who is her ticket into the notorious Warhol Factory.

As Jared Harris (son of Richard) plays Warhol, he's as noncommittal as Solanas is committed. There's a fine moment when both of them, attending one of Warhol's freak-out parties, sit on a couch, detached from the excess. Solanas wants Warhol to produce a play she's written, but it's too extreme even for him, and he blows her off. Perhaps her worst crime in Warhol's eyes is that she has no style; Solanas gives off obsessive vibes that mark her as unhip — and, eventually, dangerous.

Lili Taylor is usually a lovable actress — she was a fountain of warmth in Dogfight — and here she plays a consciously antagonistic woman, yet she still conveys warmth. Until she became homicidal, Solanas is actually pretty good company — lively and fiercely direct. Taylor plays her with an abrupt, no-nonsense humor that, oddly, weakens the film itself: Anyone this funny and engaging, however extreme her ideas, would have gotten some meaningful attention.

I Shot Andy Warhol gets a little slow and artsy during the Warhol party scenes. (Look again at Midnight Cowboy, whose endless party sequence — featuring actual Warhol hangers-on — is its only major flaw). Artistically, though, this is defensible because we share Solanas' boredom with the "scene." Harron doesn't condemn it, but she doesn't glamorize it either.

Andy Warhol tried to redefine art as something trendy and unserious. The bubble of his artifice would burst against the sharp edges of Valerie Solanas, who was as serious as a loaded gun. I Shot Andy Warhol itself straddles the line between serious and unserious. It's best understood as a twisted Warholian love story: Valerie and Andy, wallflowers at the druggy prom night of the Love Era, were a match made in Pop Art hell.
